De grootste wonderen

DE ENIGE ONMOGELIJKE REIS IS

DE REIS WAAR JE NOOIT AAN BEGINT.

Tony Robbins

DE GEUR VAN PLANTEN IS
ALS MUZIEK VOOR ONZE ZINTUIGEN.

Wijsheid uit Perzië

An aerial photograph of a vast desert canyon. In the foreground, a large, deep blue reservoir is nestled within the canyon's folds. The rock formations are layered and eroded, showing various shades of orange, red, and tan. In the distance, more rugged mountain ranges stretch across the horizon under a clear blue sky with a few wispy clouds. The overall scene is one of natural grandeur and beauty.
